EWSOLUTIONS HONORED WITH PRESTIGIOUS AWARD FROM THE INTELLIGENCE COMMUNITY

Washington, DC June 8, 2005 — A Principal Consultant at EWSolutions was recently presented with a Meritorious Service Award by the Intelligence Community Metadata Working Group (ICMWG). This award was given in recognition of the consultant's demonstrated exemplary skill and dedication in advancing the mission of the TWPDES (The Terrorist Watchlist Person Data Exchange Standard).

The function of the TWPDES is to provide a data exchange format for terrorist watchlist data that supports the Department of State, Department of Justice, Intelligence Community under the Director of Central Intelligence, and the Department of Homeland Security. This service develops and maintains the most thorough, accurate, and current information possible about individuals known or suspected to be involved in activities related to terrorism.

This award comes soon after an impressive article in the Chicago Tribune newspaper regarding EWSolutions' continuing reforms of the Federal Bureau of Investigation's (FBI) computer systems and metadata management capabilities. The president of EWSolutions, David Marco, remarked, "To be honored like this is a great achievement. The team worked hard on this project and recognition by the ICMWG is very rewarding to the entire organization."
